Note: The adhesive tape referred to below does not leave any marks or damage the dashboard, and it is easy to remove.

1.
Slide the little male plate off the large female plate. Peel off the cover on the adhesive tape on the large plate and attach the plate to the back of your device. Press firmly down on the plate for best possible attachment.

2.
Place the little male plate over the matching holes in the dashboard mount and attach it with enclosed self tapping screws.

3.
Slide the device down onto the male plate.

4.
The Move Clip is now in place as shown.

NOTE: The adhesive tape may loosen if it is exposed to extreme heat over several hours such as being left in the car on a parking lot in 90 degrees F a whole work day.
